FINANCIAL NEWS AND COMMENT

Europe Buys Stocks Eagerly After Peace Between Italy and Turkey.

ALL MARKETS STRONGER Little Fear Now of Trouble From the War in the Balkan States.

The protocol between Turkey and Italy, the virtual conclusion of that war and the increasing confidence that the war between Turkey and the Balkan States will be localized imparted a stimulus to all foreign markets yesterday.

Stocks in this market opened 1/4 to 1/2 point above the previous day's close, following closely the higher level of prices in London.

The Bank of England increased its minimum rate of discount from 4 1/2 to 5 per cent, and it is probable that the Bank of England will be advanced from 4 to 4 1/2 at the meeting of the governors this morning.

Trade reports demonstrated that while the recent confusion in the foreign security markets checked the advance in the New York market, the war scare did not in the slightest degree reduce the expansion of business in this country.

Conclusion of Italo-Turkish Peace Treaty Does Much to Aid Markets. BALKAN OUTLOOK GOOD London, Paris, Berlin and Genoa All Appear More Cheerful.

The Canadian department was greatly helped by the conclusion of peace between Italy and Turkey and by the definite news of the signing of the peace treaty was not known in the European capitals until late last night.

The American section was strong throughout and all shares made noteworthy gains. The higher range of prices was especially significant because it occurred in the face of a change of attitude on the part of New York.

According to another statement by Sellers the general public is to be deprived of the opportunity to buy any of the New York Telephone Company's telephone and telegraph securities.
